Award for the Advancement of Application of Agricultural and Food Chemistry

Administered by the Division of Agricultural and Food Chemistry and sponsored by International Flavors and Fragrances, Inc.

First awarded: 1973.

Purpose: To recognize and encourage outstanding contributions to pure and/or applied agricultural and food chemistry.

Eligibility: A nominee must have made:

An outstanding application of chemistry and/or chemical technology to the solution of agricultural or food problems of importance to the nourishment and health of mankind, or Outstanding contributions to the advancement of pure and/or applied agricultural and food chemistry.

Special consideration shall be given to independence of thought and the originality shown, or to the importance of the work when applied to the public welfare or the needs of humanity. The nominee must be actively engaged in the line of work for which the Award is made.

Prize: $3000, an engraved plaque, and an allowance to cover the traveling expenses of the awardee to the ACS Fall Meeting at which the Award will be presented.

Nomination package: Nominations should list the name, present affiliation, and achievements of the candidate. The nomination form and no more than three letters of endorsement must be submitted to the Chair of the Awards Committee by February 1 of the year for which they are nominated. The Awards Committee will select one nominee for ratification by the Divisional Executive Committee at their Spring Meeting. Nominees, other than the recipient, will be eligible for consideration for two consecutive calendar years without re-submission of information.

Deadline: February 1.

AGFD Fellow Award

Sponsored by the Division of Agricultural and Food Chemistry of the American Chemical Society

First awarded: 1988.

Purpose: To recognize outstanding scientific contributions to the field of agricultural and food chemistry.

Eligibility: The award recognizes the application of chemistry to improve the supply, safety, and/or quality of food and agricultural products. A significant portion of the research should have been reported in ACS journals and books and/or at Divisional symposia. The nominee must have been a member of ACS and the Division for at least the preceding five years.

Prize: The winner receives an engraved plaque at the ACS Fall Meeting.

Nomination package:

Letter of nomination and 2-4 letter of support from Fellows

Brief summary of nominee's research and Division activities

Brief curriculum vitae

Up-to-date publication list highlighting ACS publication record

The nominations are reviewed by a committee consisting of Division members from industry, government, and academia.

Deadline: February 1.

AGFD Young Scientist Award

Sponsored by the Division of Agricultural and Food Chemistry of the American Chemical Society

First awarded: 1992.

Purpose: To recognize outstanding scientific contributions of scientists early in their careers to the field of agricultural and food chemistry.

Eligibility: Candidates must have earned their last degree within twelve years of October 1 of the year of the presentation.

Prize: $1000 and an engraved plaque. A panel of judges will choose six applicants to participate in a symposium at the ACS Fall Meeting, from which the winner will be chosen. Those selected to speak will receive travel expenses up to $1000.

Nomination package: A nomination letter, two supporting letters, a two-page summary of the research of significance, a 150-word abstract of the proposed oral presentation, and the candidate's curriculum vitae. The nominator must be a member of the Division.

Application Deadline: March 1
